GETTING STARTED

accessing your files

After purchasing your wedding stationery template(s), accessing your files is quick and easy! Here's how:

01

CHECK YOUR EMAIL

Shortly after your purchase, you'll receive an email from Corjl with a link to access and edit your template. This email will be sent to the address associated with your Etsy account or order. If you don't see it in your inbox, be sure to check your spam or junk folder just in case.

02

LOG IN TO CORJL

Click on the link in the email to be taken directly to the Corjl platform. There, you can log in using the email address you use for your Etsy account. If for any reason you don't receive the email, you can also access your files directly by going to www.corjl.com, clicking "EDIT A PURCHASED ITEM" to create a free customer account, and entering your order ID.

START EDITING

Once logged in, your purchased template will be ready and waiting for you to start customizing. Corjl's online editor is user-friendly and works directly in your browser—no need to download any additional software!

! Did you use Apple Pay and opt to use the "Hide My Email" feature when paying?

If so then Corjl is not able to send the order email with the link because they are given a "dummy" email address that usually ends with "@privaterelay.appleid.com."

If this has happened to you, please contact me and I will resend you the order link as soon as I can (I may be in a different time zone, so please have some patience).

NEED ASSISTANCE?

If you need any help or have any requests, you can send a message via Etsy or get in contact via email at deborah@cottonrose.co

Choose Your Template Size

Your download/template package may include several size options. Pick the one that best suits your needs, whether you're printing at home or using a local print shop. For detailed information on common paper sizes and hints on where prints what size, check the paper size guide available on our website!

Plan Your Wording

Before editing the template, jot down the key information you'd like to include. This could be anything from essential details to specific wording you want to use. Having an outline in advance will help speed up the editing process. Don't worry—you can always adjust and refine the wording as you edit.

Remove Any Extra Pages

Some templates include multiple versions in the same size as additional pages (like personalized menu layouts to use for each guest as well as the standard version). To keep things tidy, you can delete any pages you don't need. Just click the trash can icon at the top of the page you want to remove.

Edit Your Base Design

Now it's time to personalize the template by adding your own details and wording. You can make quick text replacements on your mobile device, but for full editing, it's best to use a tablet or computer—preferably with the Chrome browser. Below are some quick tips to help you get started confidently.

To change the background, make sure nothing in the editor is selected. Then, click the "Edit Background" button (typically located in the right panel) to choose your preferred color. Keep in mind that printed colors will appear less vibrant than on your screen. It's always a good idea to do a draft test print at home to see how your chosen colors look in print and then adjust as necessary.

Editing the Text

Click on any text box to start typing and edit. You can also drag the text boxes to adjust the layout. For more options, right-click on the text box for a menu where you can use "align" to center or align to items to line up your text. Need special characters like swooshes or accents? Just click the  "character" button to select, copy, and then paste where needed.

Adding More Text

To duplicate existing text, right-click and select "duplicate." This will create a copy with the same font, spacing, and settings, which you can then edit. If you prefer to add a new text box, you can do so and customize the font, character spacing, and line height according to your style.

For more detailed instructions, you can access the official Corjl user guide directly from the Cotton Rose Co website by clicking here.

Download Your First Draft

Once you're happy with the design, download a draft copy as a JPG or PDF and view it at 100% on your screen to check the details. If it looks good, print a quick draft to check spelling, legibility, colors, and layout (this can be easier using a physical copy). Then, either finalize the download or make any final tweaks!

Fine-Tune the Design

Feel free to revisit the editor as many times as you need. You can make adjustments until your design is perfect for your wedding or event. This flexibility allows you to adjust wording, layout, or color until you're completely happy.

Download the Final Design

For the best quality print, download your final version as a PDF. Be sure to select the "bleed" option if you want edge-to-edge printing with no white margins. If printing at home, you can also include trim marks to help with cutting. For digital use, download as a PNG or JPG (without bleed) for easy sharing!

Double-Check Everything

Before you print or send digitally, take a final moment to review your design at 100% zoom to ensure everything looks sharp and there are no typos or formatting issues. This extra step can save you time and frustration later!

Print at Home or Professionally

Print your final design at home or through a professional print service. It's time to see your beautiful creation come to life!

- Home Printing: Load one sheet of card at a time, especially if using thicker paper, to avoid jams. Set your printer to 100% scale and choose "best quality" for sharp results. If printing double-sided, test with regular paper first to ensure everything lines up.
- Professional Printing: Upload or give your file to your chosen print service and review the preview for any typos. If the preview looks slightly blurry, don't worry—it's OK as long as your original file looked sharp at 100% on your screen.

Use, Post, or Send Digitally

Sending Digitally: For digital invitations, you can upload your design to a service like PaperlessPost™ for animated e-cards, or simply attach the digital file to an email or WhatsApp message. PNG is usually best for digital sharing, but JPG works well too. PDF is great for multi-page documents (select 'design default size').

10

Customizing your wedding stationery to perfectly match your vision is easy and fun with the Corjl online editor. Here's a step-by-step guide to help you get started:

1 ACCESSING YOUR CORJL TEMPLATE

Once you've received your email from Corjl, click the link to access your template. You'll be directed to the Corjl editor where you can start making changes right away—no need to download additional software.

For the best experience, use a desktop or laptop computer to edit your templates, using the Chrome browser.

PRO TIP!

While Corjl is accessible on mobile devices, it is limited in what you can do (mostly simple wording changes). You'll find the editing process smoother and more precise on a larger screen.

2 CUSTOMIZING THE TEXT

Edit Text Fields: Click on any text box to start editing. You can customize the wording to include your names, event details, dates, and more. Simply type your text into the box, and it will appear on your template. You can also select the text and edit it using the tools on the right side of the screen.

Change Fonts: Choose your favorite fonts and colors to match your wedding theme. Just select the text, then pick your options from the tools on the right. Resize your text by selecting it and adjusting the font size. You can also tweak the spacing between letters and lines to make sure everything looks perfect.

Text Alignment: Adjust the alignment (left, center, right) to ensure your text looks balanced and professional. You can also move text boxes around to better fit your design or create a unique layout. Right click for alignment tools!

3 ADJUSTING COLORS

Whether you're going for a soft, romantic vibe or a bold, modern look, you can easily adjust the colors to reflect your style.

Use Hex Codes: If you have specific color codes for your wedding theme, you can input hex codes directly into the color picker to achieve a match.

Hex codes are formatted similar to this: #ffffff (the hex code for pure white).

Customize Colors: Click on any 'editable' element of your template—such as text or the main background color—and choose from a wide range of colors to match your wedding palette. Colors of graphics (like lines, squiggles and squares) can generally be changed, but the main 'painted' or illustrated artwork can't be.

4 WORKING WITH IMAGES & GRAPHICS

Replace Existing Images: Click on any existing placeholder image or QR code and select "Replace Image" to swap it out for one of your own. It's that easy!

Arrange Layers: Use the Layers panel (bottom of the tools panel - you might have to click to expand) to bring items forward or send them back. This is helpful if you're layering text over images or arranging multiple elements.

Upload Your Own Images: Want to add a photo (maybe a beautiful shot of your wedding day to your thank you cards) or a custom graphic or illustration like a custom monogram, venue illustration, or even a QR code? Click "Add Image" in the tools panel to upload your own image. You can resize, rotate, and move it around until it's just right.

Add a QR Code: Add a modern touch by including a QR code that links to your wedding website, RSVP form, gift list registry or honeymoon fund. Generate your QR code online, upload it to Corjl (as if it is an image), and place it wherever you like on your design.

5 ADDING GUEST NAMES

Make your stationery even more special by adding individual guest names or other personalization.

Create some place holder content in your template for your guest names and style how you would like. You can then use the "duplicate page" tool (it's next to the dustbin icon at the top of the editor, and looks like stacked sheets of paper) to make a copy of your base template for each guest, changing the placeholder text to personalize.

QR CODE GENERATORS...

Allow you to create a QR code for a linked web page, or even a video or PDF that you have uploaded. There are lots about if you do a search, or take a look at:

- QR Code Monkey - www.qrcode-monkey.com/
- QR Code IO - <https://qr-code.io/>

PRO TIP!

Take your time and enjoy the process! Editing your template is a great opportunity to really infuse your personality and style into your wedding stationery.

If you're unsure about any aspect of the design, feel free to reach out—I'm happy to offer advice or suggestions.

6 SAVING & DOWNLOADING

You can come back and edit whenever you like, there is no expiry on our templates, so take your time and get things right for you.

Don't forget to save your progress as you go!

Save Your Progress: It's always a good idea to hit the "Save" button periodically.

If Things Go Wrong: You can always revert back to the original template.

Download Your Design: Once you're happy with your design, download it as a PDF, JPEG, or PNG.

For printing, select the PDF option and include bleed (and trim marks if needed or requested by your printer) for professional results.

Your wedding stationery should be as unique and special as your love story. While the templates are designed to be beautiful and functional, you might want to add some extra personal touches to make them truly your own.

Here's how you can take your designs to the next level:

1 ADDING EXTRA DETAILS

- Personal Messages: Beyond the standard text, consider adding a personal message to your guests, whether it's a note of gratitude, a quote that holds special meaning, or a line from your favorite poem. This could be included on the reverse of your invitation or on an additional card.
- Monograms and Symbols: If you have a custom monogram, crest, or symbol that represents your relationship, you can easily incorporate it into the design. Upload your image file directly into the Corjl editor, and place it where it looks best—such as the top of your invitation, on the back, or even on the RSVP card.
- Images and Photos: Want to include a cherished photo of the two of you? You can upload your own images to the template. Consider using a photo for a personalized save-the-date, or add an engagement photo to the reverse of your information card.

2 ADD A QR CODE FOR EXTRA INFO

Why Add a QR Code?

QR codes are a modern and convenient way to provide your guests with quick access to additional information. You might include a link to your wedding website, a map of the venue, or even a personalized video message from the couple. It is particularly useful if you have a lot of details to share or want to offer your guests easy access to digital RSVPs.

How to Add a QR Code:

- Generate your QR code using an online generator (such as QR Code IO, QR Code Monkey or GoQR.me). Make sure the URL or content you're linking to is correct and active. For videos and PDFs, these will need to be hosted somewhere online.
- Download the QR code as an image file (JPEG or PNG) and upload it into Corjl.
- Place the QR code on your invitation, RSVP card, or info card. Be mindful of the size and placement—make sure it's easy for guests to scan without overshadowing your design.

3 PERSONALIZE WITH GUEST NAMES

Adding your guests' names directly to their invitations, menus or place cards is a wonderful way to make each guest feel special. It's a personal touch that shows your appreciation for their presence on your big day. This level of personalization also adds a layer of sophistication and exclusivity to your event. Just make sure the print service you use offers 'variation' print!

How to Add Guest Names:

In the Corjl editor, you can easily create additional pages with personalized guest names. Use the text tool to add each name to the appropriate spot on the invitation or place card.

4 COORDINATE WITH OTHER WEDDING ELEMENTS

- Color Matching: Ensure your stationery matches the rest of your wedding theme by adjusting the colors in the Corjl editor. Whether it's the bridesmaids' dresses, floral arrangements, or table decor, you can easily customize the color palette to align with your overall aesthetic. Use a "hex" code to color match (i.e. #ffffff is the hex for white).
- Matching Fonts: If you're using specific fonts across your wedding materials (like menus, place cards, or signage), you can 'match' these in your stationery templates by choosing similar looking fonts within the Corjl editor.

5 ADD EMBELLISHMENTS

Add a touch of elegance with belly bands, patterned envelope liners, ribbons, wax seals, or even dried flowers.

These can be used to bundle your invitations with other stationery pieces like RSVP cards or information cards, making the presentation even more beautiful.

6 COMPLETE THE LOOK!

Explore other items in the collection to create a cohesive look across all your wedding materials.

PRINT OPTIONS

printing your templates

Congratulations on creating your beautiful wedding stationery! Whether you're planning to print at home, use a professional print shop, or try an online service, you'll find that bringing your designs to life is an easy and enjoyable process. You can choose the paper, finishes, and printing method that best match your vision and budget.

Our printable templates are thoughtfully designed to provide flexibility for a variety of printing options. You can print locally at a copy shop, upload your files to an online printer, or use a high-quality color printer at home. Each template is formatted to work with standard paper sizes that you'll find available with your local print service in your area (or using your home printer), making it easy for you to achieve a professional finish no matter where you print.

In the following sections, you'll find tips and instructions for getting the best results, from choosing the right paper stock to ensuring proper alignment and quality. Whether you're printing a few pieces or preparing a full suite, we've got you covered with practical advice to make every detail shine.

Your Printing Options:

1. Local Printers:

Local print shops are a fantastic option if you want personalized guidance or need your prints quickly.

- Speak directly with experts who can recommend paper types and finishes.
- Support local community businesses.
- Ideal For: Smaller quantities, rush jobs, or custom requests (e.g., unusual sizes or shapes).

2. Online Print Services:

Online services like Vistaprint, Moo.com, or Prints of Love offer easy-to-use platforms for uploading your designs and selecting your desired print options.

- Convenient and accessible 24/7 from the comfort of your home.
- Often more affordable for large orders or when selecting premium finishes.
- Delivery directly to your door.
- Ideal For: Invitations, save-the-dates, programs, and bulk orders.

Some popular online printers are: Prints of Love • Moo.com • Print.Work • VistaPrint • Zazzle • Printed.com

3. Basic Copy Shops (e.g., Staples, FedEx, Office Depot):

Copy shops are a budget-friendly option for simple prints, especially when in a hurry.

- Affordable and accessible in most cities.
- Options to bring your own paper.
- Ideal For: Simple menus, poster prints, table numbers, or single-sided designs where basic finishes are sufficient.

4. Home Printing

If you're on a tight budget, in a rush, or only need a few items (like a few invitations, a couple of menus or small signs), printing at home is a fantastic option. Its easiest to print single-sided at home, however double-sided print is also an option. You will need a good quality photo printer and card, and to set your printing quality to "finest" or "best".

PRO PRINT GUIDE

why use a print shop

Printing your wedding stationery with a professional service can elevate the overall look and feel of your designs. Whether you're preparing invitations, menus, or programs, pro printing ensures high-quality results that create a polished, lasting impression.

Why Pro-Print?

Your beautifully designed stationery deserves to look its absolute best. Professional printing ensures your designs are as memorable as your big day.

SUPERIOR QUALITY

Professional printers use advanced technology and premium materials that can enhance your designs in ways that home printers simply can't match. Benefits include:

- Crisp print and vibrant colors.
- Variety of paper choices: Choose from luxurious cardstock, textured finishes, or eco-friendly options to suit your theme.

TIME-SAVING!

Printing large quantities at home can be tedious and time-consuming, not to mention prone to alignment issues or smudges.

Professional services handle the entire process for you, so you can focus on other aspects of your wedding planning.

COST-EFFECTIVE FOR LARGER QUANTITIES

For longer print runs, professional services can often be far more cost-effective than home printing. Ink cartridges and high-quality paper can add up quickly when printing at home.

Professionals also save you time—no more refilling ink, reloading paper, or troubleshooting printer errors.

As a rule of thumb, if you need more than 25 copies of an item, it might be more cost-effective to use a printing service than printing at home once ink and paper costs have been taken into account. This is particularly likely with darker color or high ink-coverage designs.

For anything requiring a professional, polished finish—or if you value your time and sanity if printing lots of copies—investing in professional printing is worth every penny!

PRO PRINT GUIDE

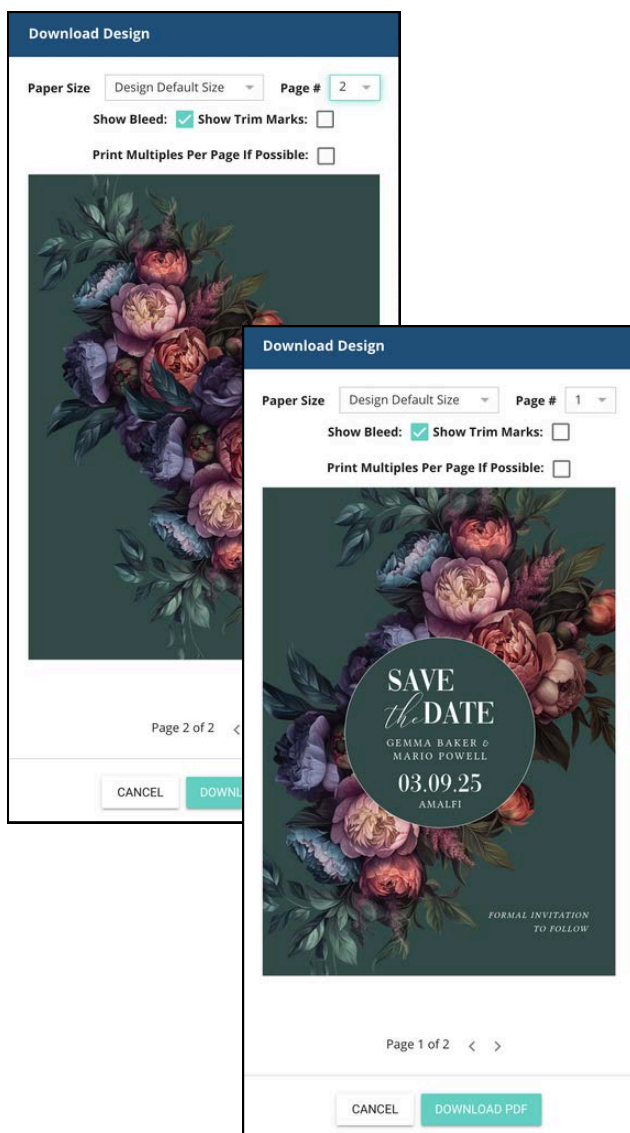

preparing your files

1/ Click Download

After clicking “Download,” you’ll choose the format for your file. For most print shops, PDF is preferred for high-quality printing. However, basic copy shops may request JPG files.

The screenshot shows a 'Download Design' dialog box. It asks 'What format would you like to download?' and has a dropdown menu with 'PDF' selected. Below the dropdown are 'CANCEL' and 'NEXT' buttons.

The first screenshot shows the 'Download Design' dialog box with 'Paper Size' set to 'Design Default Size', 'Page #' set to '2', 'Show Bleed' checked, 'Show Trim Marks' unchecked, and 'Print Multiples Per Page If Possible' unchecked. The second screenshot shows the same dialog box with 'Page #' set to '1' and a preview of the design, which is a floral arrangement with a circular text overlay that reads 'SAVE the DATE GEMMA BAKER & MARIO POWELL 03.09.25 AMALFI FORMAL INVITATION TO FOLLOW'.

2/ Configure Your Settings

Paper Size – Select “Design Default Size”

Pages: Choose “All Pages” for multi-page files or select a specific page if you need separate files for the front and reverse sides. Some designs may require different templates for the front and reverse.

Show Bleed – Tick this to slightly enlarge the design area, ensuring edge-to-edge printing after trimming. This is a setting print shops universally require to be set.

Show Trim – Only select this if your print provider requests it. Most professional printers will add their own trim marks.

Do NOT select Print Multiples Per Page if Possible – If option is available, make sure it is not checked.

Quick Summary:

- Format: PDF
- Paper Size: Design Default Size
- Bleed: Enabled
- Trim Marks: Disabled (unless requested)
- Multiples Per Page: Disabled

3/ Confirm Download

Click “Download” and make note of the file location or save it in an easy-to-find spot for later upload or delivery to your print provider.

4/ Upload Files to Print Provider

Select a print service and opt for full-color digital printing. Upload or provide the files from your download, then check the print preview. Don’t worry if the preview looks a little fuzzy; this is just a general display.

Note: Your download is in RGB (Corjl editor limitation). Professional print providers will convert this to CMYK for printing. Colors may appear less bright in print than on screen, and neon shades won’t translate.

PRO PRINT GUIDE

paper choices

A GUIDE TO PAPER CHOICES

Every print shop will have a different range of papers and cards on offer, and can help with guidance - we recommend taking a look at their samples to find your favourite - but here are some of ours!

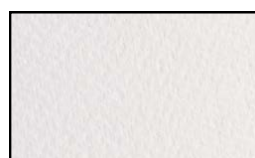

350 GSM
SILK
(SMOOTH)

Silk paper will add a sheen to your cards. Silk holds up well to mistreatment - like grubby children's fingers, making it good for anything that will be handled. It's particularly great for cards with photos, and works well with 'photo strip' cards.

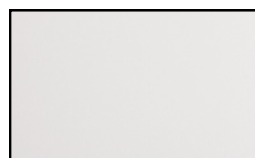

350 GSM
UNCOATED
(SMOOTH)

Matt uncoated paper offers a smooth, non-reflective finish that exudes understated elegance. This paper type is perfect for those who want a clean, modern look. Its uncoated surface is also great for writing on, making it ideal for RSVP cards or other stationery where guests might add notes.

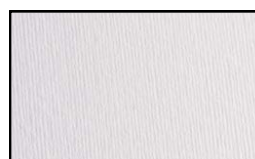

300 GSM
HAMMERED
(TEXTURED)

Our go-to-favourite, Tintoretto Gesso, for wedding invitations comes in this category. The hammered (or 'felt' as its often called) texture adds a sophisticated feel, and the card feels as tactile in the hand as 350gsm uncoated. Hard to print on at home (but not impossible) due to the heavy texture.

324 GSM
EGG SHELL
(TEXTURED)

We love the light texture of a matte eggshell paper - it's very tactile and prints beautifully. The classic Mohawk Superfine Eggshell, is a wonderful choice for either pro or at home printing. This is the paper Moo.com uses for their Luxe cards.

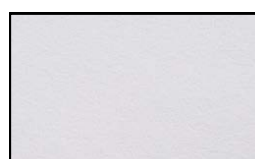

280 GSM
LINEN
(TEXTURED)

There are lots of linen textured papers available, and they can look fantastic for invitations. One of the most common is Nettuno, which offers fine lines. It's a little lighter weight than some of the other speciality papers.

350 GSM
SEED PAPER
(TEXTURED)

Seed paper is an eco-friendly option that is embedded with seeds, allowing guests to plant the paper after the wedding and grow wildflowers or herbs. This unique paper type is not only sustainable but also offers a tactile, handmade feel. It works best with lighter ink coverage or minimal designs.

300 GSM
COTTON

For a real luxury feel you can try a cotton. We only recommend the 100% cotton for lighter ink coverage designs, but the ones with recycled content can work well for designs with a little more ink coverage too. Try Perlino Cotton or Materica for cotton with some recycled content.

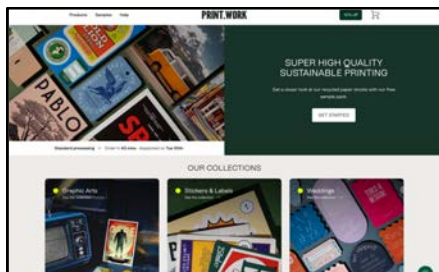

150 GSM
VELLUM

You can use vellum paper (not really vellum, more a fine cellulose paper like thick tracing paper) for inserts and overlays, or even as a full invite when attached to some backing card. Its light and fine, and translucent (no double sided print).

Moo

INTERNATIONAL

Always a good option, moo offers 'printfinity' variations as standard so that you can have a different front for all of your cards. Standard card stocks are coated, so for RSVPs you will need to ensure the writable side is left uncoated or select 'flyer'. The 'luxé' heavy range is Mohawk superfine eggshell and prints beautifully.

VistaPrint

INTERNATIONAL

Good value for large signage. VistaPrint does not offer variation printing, so we don't recommend (or size) for table numbers or add guest name placeholders. Also to note, their card sizes are different to standard - take a look through your template sizes and use the correct one when printing with VistaPrint.

PRO PRINT GUIDE

prior to print checklist

Before sending your template to a professional printer, use this checklist to ensure your design is perfect and ready for high-quality printing.

Item to Check	✓
Spelling & Grammar - Review all text for correct spelling, grammar, and punctuation.
Names, Dates & Event Details - Verify that all names, dates, and event details are accurate.
Address & Venue Information - Double-check the venue address and any other key info.
Alignment - Ensure text, images, and graphics are properly aligned and evenly spaced.
Color & Font Choices - Confirm that color selections and fonts appear as intended.
Design Elements - Make sure all graphics, images, and icons are included as expected.
Sizes - Confirm that you've selected the correct size for your final piece (e.g., 5x7", A6, 4x6").
Bleed - Verify that your design includes the necessary bleed area to avoid cutting issues.
File Format - Check that the file format is what your printer requires (PDF with bleed is most common - some copy shops may prefer JPG and even to have "Trim" selected).
Color Profile - Your file will be in RGB . Most printers will convert to CMYK for you automatically if they prefer files in CMYK. If the printer requires you to do this prior, then you can use an online conversion tool such as www.pdf2cmyk.com .
Back Design -If you are printing on both sides, ensure that your reverse design is ready, the same size as the front, downloaded, and go through all of the above steps as per the front.
Paper Choice - Choose a paper and weight that fits your style (e.g., matte, satin, or textured).
Soft Proof - Request a digital proof from your printer to catch any final issues before printing.

READY TO PRINT? Once you've checked everything off, you're all set to go!

HOME PRINT GUIDE

downloading

Printing at home is pretty simple when you follow these steps. Just ensure that your settings are correct for the best results. Let's go step by step:

1/ Click Download

After clicking the "download" button, you will be asked what format you would like to download. I recommend PDF for best printing results, but you will also get good results with JPG.

2/ Add Your Download Settings

Here's how to ensure your cards print perfectly every time, whether printing larger cards or smaller ones that fit multiples per A4 or US Letter page.

Key Download Settings:

- File Type: PDF (Recommended) or JPG
- Page: Choose which page(s) you want to download—either one at a time or all at once.
 - With JPG/PNG: You will be able to select individual pages to download, ALL (Individual Files) or ALL (Zipped). Each page will have a separate file, whether it is zipped into a folder or not. If you download a zipped folder, you can double click to expand it.
 - With PDF: You can choose individual pages to download, or you can download ALL as a "multi-page PDF" – which is one file containing all of the pages you have added to your template (i.e. a front and reverse, or all of your personalized place cards).
- Enable Bleed for edge-to-edge printing.
- Consider Trim Marks to assist with cutting.
- Paper Size (PDF Files Only):
 - Select Design Default Size for large cards like 8x10", A5, Half-Letter, 4x9", DL and any other cards that do not tile on a larger paper size, or for any cards where margins are incorrect if printing double-sided and using "Print Multiples per Page". You can use the chart on page 20 to quickly check if this applies to your size design.
 - You can then use your printer settings to accurately center on the sheet.
 - Select your Default Printer Paper Size (i.e. A4 or US Letter) if you would like to tile smaller cards (e.g. place cards or rsvps) and save paper.
- Multiples per Page:
 - For most smaller cards, you can Print Multiples per Page when downloading PDFs:
 - Tile Same Design for identical designs
 - Tile Different Designs for personalized variations like place cards or table numbers

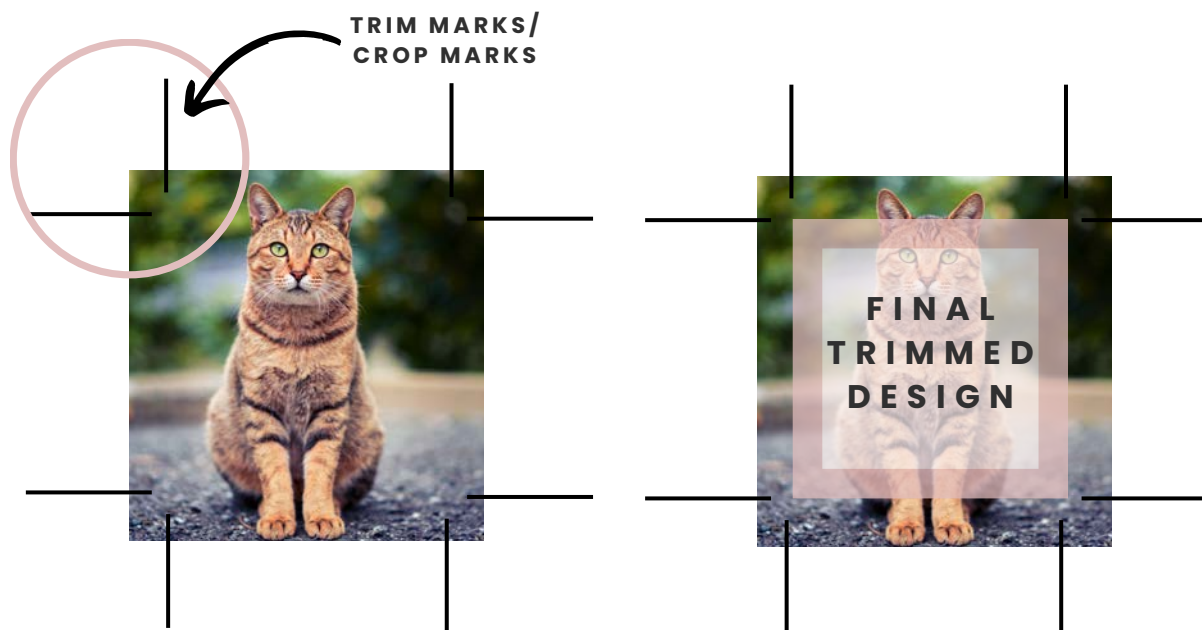

3/ Download Your Files

Click the final "Download" button and ensure you save the file where you can easily find it (e.g., your desktop or a folder you can locate). Remember, there may be more than one file.

GET THE EDGE TO EDGE LOOK

Did you know most printers will print with a white margin around the edge? To get that professional design-to-edge look you actually need to print with extra design around the edge (called bleed) which is trimmed off.

Always use paper larger than the final print size so you can add bleed and then trim to size.

Show Trim:

Use this to add cutting lines. If your design has a white or pale background, you can include trim marks to make cutting easier. If your design has a colored background, it's sometimes better to skip the trim marks and simply trim just inside the edge (around 2mm or 0.1 inches) for a cleaner look – particularly with double-sided cards.

Show Bleed:

Tick this option to make your design slightly larger than the final trim size. This ensures the design appears edge-to-edge after trimming. This is recommended for all printed items, but not needed when you are only going to use a design digitally.

Special Note for Reverse Side:

If your purchase includes a separate reverse template, or you are downloading separate pages, ensure you use the same size and bleed settings for both the front and reverse!

Printing Multiples Per Page - PDF Files Only

Corjl offers a paper-saving feature when downloading as a PDF, called "Print Multiples Per Page." This setting is adjusted in the Paper Size menu by selecting the size paper your home printer uses (rather than using "Design Default Size"), checking the "Print Multiples" option and selecting your Tiling settings. It's ideal for smaller, single-sided cards.

For double-sided cards, Corjl may not center margins correctly with this setting. Take a look on the next page of this guide to check which sizes work with "Multiples Per Page" selected for double-sided printing. A5, Half-Letter, 4x9", DL, and "Rack Card"/3.5x8.5" (US Letter) sizes do not.

Paper Size:

Choose from Design Default Size, US Letter, or A4.

The default paper size is set to US Letter, so you may need to adjust this.

- For double-sided designs in the following sizes—A5, Half-Letter, DL, 3.5 x 8.5" (US Letter), and Rack Card (US Letter)—please select Design Default Size and deselect "Print Multiples per Page" to control margins through your printer settings. If you select "Multiples per Page" for these sizes, margins will not align properly for double-sided printing, resulting in misaligned pages. Check page 20 for more details on cards that can't tile.
- For single-sided cards and most smaller unfolded double-sided cards (e.g., 5x7", 4x6", A6, A7), select your printer's paper size (US Letter or A4) and enable "Print Multiples Per Page" to print multiple cards per sheet. Do not use this option for larger double-sided cards that don't tile correctly, folded cards (except place cards), DL size, or for slim cards on US Letter, as this can throw off margins.

Tiling Options for "Print Multiples Per Page" (will only show if more than one page):

- Tile Same Design: Use this option when printing multiple copies of a generic design (e.g., an invitation or menu without guest-specific details).
- Tile Different Designs: Select this option for personalized items (e.g., place cards with individual guest names or unique table numbers) to ensure each card prints with its unique information.

Remember!

For larger cards that don't fit multiple copies per sheet, or for double-sided designs where margins may not align correctly, you should select the Design Default Size option, and center your print out using your printers own settings.

This is because selecting print multiples per page can sometimes result in off-center margins for the paper size, which can be problematic if printing double-sided. Basically, the front and backs of your cards won't line up properly.

recommendations

PAPER CHOICE AND WEIGHT

For a professional finish, we recommend using high-quality card stock, typically 100–110 lb (250gsm–300gsm or higher). Choose a texture that complements your design, such as smooth, linen, or lightly textured paper. High textured papers may be difficult to print on at home, so you might want to pick a smoother or light texture for easier printing, or to carefully experiment before committing to a long print run.

Experiment and have fun, but always test with a single print before committing to a batch!

Important Note

Check what thickness paper your home printer is compatible with. Some printers cannot take more than 250gsm weight reliably and may jam with thicker card.

You should feed the card into your printer one sheet at a time to minimise mis-registration or paper jams when working with card stocks.

PRINT SETTINGS

Before you print, make sure your printer settings are optimized:

Print Actual Size

In your print settings make sure to set them to 'actual size' vs 'fit to page' to preserve the size.

Print High Quality

In your print settings make sure to set them 'high quality' or 'photo quality' for the best result.

- Print at 100% scale and on full-size paper or the paper size as per your download.
- Print full colour, and using your finest "High Quality" or "Best" settings for crisp results.
- If your printer has the option, make sure the design is centered (this will make it easier to line up if printing double sided)
- Print one card at a time, loading the printer with just one sheet, and leaving time to dry before printing any reverse. And, test with just one card before printing a full batch
- If printing double sided, test on a piece of cheap paper so that you know which way to load the paper for the reverse – this can be tricky to work out sometimes!

Test Print: We always recommend doing a test print on standard paper to check the colors, layout, and alignment before using your final cardstock.

HOME PRINT GUIDE

double sided print

Printing double-sided (also known as duplex printing) can add a professional touch to your wedding stationery, especially for invitations or information cards.

Here's how to do it successfully at home:

DON'T USE 'AUTOMATIC' DUPLEX

Some home printers come with an automatic duplex printing feature, which handles double-sided printing for you. If your printer supports this, you'll find the option in your printer settings under "Print on Both Sides" or "Duplex Printing." Don't use this with thick card as it can very easily lead to paper jams or misregistration. Feed your card manually, carefully, one sheet at a time.

PREPARE YOUR DESIGN

- Alignment: Before printing, make sure that the front and back designs of your template are perfectly aligned. In the Corjl editor, check that both sides have the correct orientation (portrait or landscape) and size, and that the designs match up as intended. Please check the included guide on page 20 to check if margins line up with double-sided printing if printing "Multiples per Page". Otherwise, download at Design Default Size for accurate margins.
- Bleed: Ensure that the design includes proper margins and bleeds if necessary, which will help avoid any white borders or alignment issues when printing both sides.

PRINT ONE SIDE, THEN THE OTHER

- First, test print on a cheap piece of paper and trim to size so that you can check that your margins are correct on both sides of the design.
- Then print all the front sides of your invitations. Always leave a few minutes to make sure the ink is dry before printing the reverse sides.
- Flip the printed pages according to your printer's manual duplex instructions. Typically, this means flipping the paper and reinserting it into the paper tray with the correct orientation for the back side. I recommend feeding your cards to the printer one at a time.
- Print the back sides.
- Remember, first do a test print with just a single sheet to ensure the front and back align properly before printing the full batch.

PRO TIP!

Always print a test page first. This will save you time and frustration by ensuring that everything aligns correctly before you commit to printing your entire set.

Troubleshooting Common Issues:

- Paper Jams: Double-sided printing can sometimes cause paper jams, especially with thicker cardstock. To minimize this, ensure you're using high-quality, heavyweight paper that's designed for double-sided printing and that your printer's paper tray is not overloaded. I can't recommend enough to feed one sheet at a time!
- Alignment Problems: If the front and back designs don't align perfectly, check your printer's manual for instructions on how to properly flip the paper when printing manually. Some trial and error may be needed to get it just right. Download from Corjl as "Design Default Size" and use your printer settings to center the design on the page for more accurate margins to both sides as Corjl sometimes places off-center when the printer paper size is selected as the download size.
- Ink Smudging: Allow the ink to dry fully before printing the second side, especially if you're using an inkjet.

Trimming Your Cards

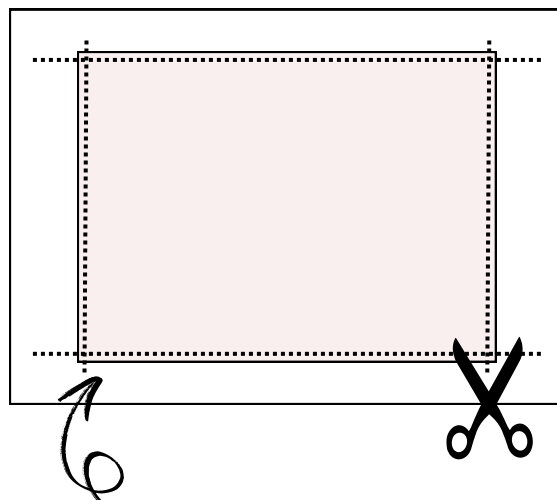

For clean, professional cuts, use a ruler and a craft knife (and be mindful of your fingers!).

For double-sided designs with a border, trim on the side with the border, as borders are more challenging to align across both sides. I highly recommend you avoid adding borders on both sides for best alignment.

If you chose not to use trim marks, place your ruler just inside the printed area—about 2 mm (0.1 inches)—and make your cut here. This will ensure the design remains at the correct size, using the bleed to achieve an edge-to-edge look without any white edges.

For Designs with Light Backgrounds

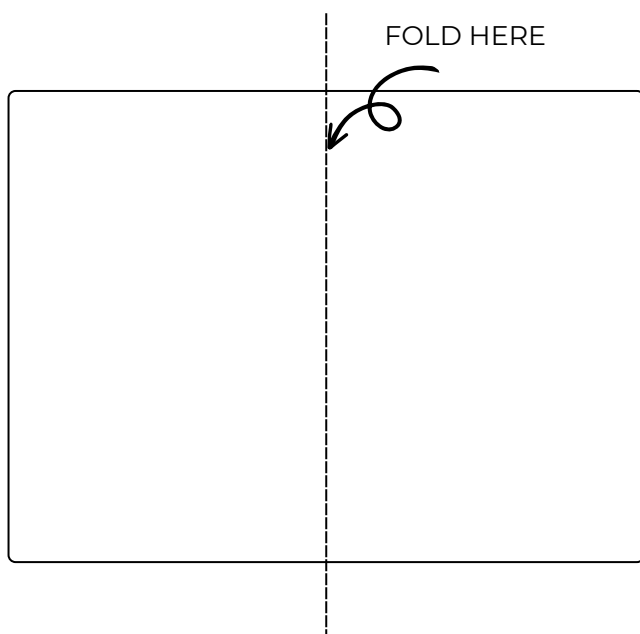

If your design has a large white or light-colored background, add the trim marks available as an option when downloading for guidance!

Cut just inside the printed area, using trim marks if needed for guidance!

If your design includes a fold (for example, tent-fold place cards, folded thank you cards, etcetera), lightly score along the fold line before or after trimming.

Finishing Folded Cards

If creating folded cards, carefully score a crease, gently fold in, and then, with a piece of paper over the top, use your finger to sharpen the crease.

Fold your design in half - for the best result press over again with a ruler.

PRINTING 'GREEN'

tips for eco friendly events

If you're conscious of your environmental impact, here are some tips to make your printing process more eco-friendly:

- Use Recycled Paper: Opt for recycled or sustainably sourced paper. Many print shops offer high-quality, eco-friendly paper options that don't sacrifice quality for sustainability. Here in the UK, there is a great print shop called Print.Work that have a wide selection of more eco friendly yet premium papers.

Print.Work

UK ONLY

Print.work offer a fantastic selection of recycled and eco-friendly card stocks for invitations, as well as partially recycled Perlino Cotton. UK only, no overseas delivery.

WWW.PRINT.WORK

- Consider Soy-Based Inks: If you're using a professional printer, ask if they offer soy-based inks. These are more environmentally friendly than traditional petroleum-based inks and produce vibrant colors.
- Minimize Waste: Be mindful of how much you're printing. Print only what you need, and if possible, offer digital invitations for some of your guests to reduce paper use.
- Recycle Misprints: If you do have any misprints, recycle the paper rather than throwing it away. You can also use scraps for other creative projects or as notepaper.
- Consider Digital Alternatives: For some aspects of your wedding, like RSVPs, announcements or save-the-dates, consider going digital. This not only reduces paper waste but also provides a convenient option for your guests!

No matter which option you choose: home printing, digital sending services, or professional printing — the idea is to bring your wedding stationery to life, ensuring it's a beautiful reflection of your big day and your own values!

PRO TIP!

Before choosing a print shop or digital service, be sure to request samples if available. This allows you to see and feel the quality of their paper and printing before making a decision.

CORJL DOWNLOADS

finding your files

After downloading your template, files will usually be saved to your device's default Downloads folder. If you're having trouble locating them, here are some helpful tips for different devices and browsers:

1. Check Your Downloads Folder

- Files downloaded from Corjl (or any browser) typically go to your device's Downloads folder by default. If you can't find the file, open your File Explorer (Windows) or Finder (Mac) and check Downloads.
- You can also use the search function within your File Explorer or Finder and enter keywords like the name of the template to locate it.

2. Look for Recently Downloaded Files

- Sometimes files may have gone to a different folder accidentally. Open your browser's Download History (usually accessible via a menu or keyboard shortcut like Ctrl+J on Windows or Command+Option+L on Mac) to see a list of recent downloads. This will often allow you to re-open the file directly or locate it in your file manager.

3. Double-Check the Download Link in Your Email

- Corjl sends an email with a link to access your files. If you've closed the tab or lost track, go back to the original email from Corjl in your inbox, click the link, and download the design again.

4. Ensure Proper Download Settings

- When downloading, make sure to select the correct settings for file size and format (like PDF, PNG, or JPG). Downloading in "Design Default Size" may be helpful if you're unsure about specific dimensions or for designs with double-sided printing.

5. Refresh or Restart Your Device

- If you're still unable to locate the file, try refreshing your Downloads folder or restarting your device. Sometimes files may not show up immediately due to system lag.

Safari on Mac/iOS

- Safari may prompt you to confirm each download. Make sure to click "Allow" or "Confirm" when prompted. Downloads will typically be saved to your Downloads folder, but if they're missing, check your Safari settings (Safari > Preferences > General) for the download location.

Chrome on ChromeBook

- ChromeBooks can occasionally save files directly to Google Drive rather than local storage. If you don't see the file, check your Google Drive or Chrome's Downloads folder under "Files." Also, avoid using "guest mode" for downloads, as files won't be saved permanently in this mode.

iOS and Android Devices

- On mobile devices, files may automatically open rather than save, especially PDFs. Check your Files app on iOS or Downloads folder on Android for the downloaded file. If your device doesn't support direct file saving, consider downloading on a desktop computer for easier access.

Browser Pop-Up Blockers and Extensions

- Certain browser extensions, like pop-up blockers or ad blockers, can interfere with downloads. If the download isn't starting, try disabling these extensions temporarily or allowing pop-ups from Corjl.

Still Can't Find Your File?

If you're still having trouble, try downloading the file again and note the location where it's saved. And as always, feel free to reach out if you need help—I'm here to ensure everything goes smoothly!

Creating your wedding stationery is an exciting part of the planning process. To ensure your designs turn out beautifully, here are some best practices to follow:

- Use High-Resolution Images: If uploading images, always use high-quality, high-resolution images (300 dpi) for your designs. This ensures that your photos and graphics will print crisp and clear, without any pixelation or blurriness. Be careful resizing images already in the template - if you upscale, they might become pixelated when printing.
- Keep it Balanced: Maintain a good balance between text and visuals. Make sure there's enough white space to let your design breathe, which will make your stationery look clean and professional.
- Choose the Right Paper: The type of paper you choose can greatly affect the final look of your stationery. For a premium feel, opt for heavy cardstock (100-110 lb or 300gsm). Matte, semi-gloss, and textured papers all offer different finishes, so pick one that complements your design the best.
- Test Print Before Mass Printing: Always do a test print on your chosen paper before printing the full batch. This helps you spot any issues with color, alignment, or paper quality and allows you to make necessary adjustments.
- Color Accuracy: Be mindful that colors can appear differently on screen compared to when they are printed. If you pick a "bright", chances are that it will print duller - sometimes a lot duller. Papers can vary in whiteness and make an impact on color too. A warm white tone paper will print color very differently to a cool toned paper.

Common Mistakes to Avoid

Even with the best intentions, some common pitfalls can occur during the design and printing process. Here's what to watch out for:

- Overcrowding Text: Less is more. Avoid cramming too much information onto your stationery, as this can make it look cluttered and difficult to read. Stick to the essentials and ensure there's plenty of space between elements.
- Using Low-Resolution Images: Always use high-resolution images (300 dpi). Low-quality images can appear pixelated or blurry when printed, which can detract from the overall elegance of your design. Steer away from enlarging any images already in your template.
- Forgetting to Proofread: Spelling and grammatical errors can be easily overlooked, especially after you've been staring at the same text for a while. Take a break, then come back to proofread with fresh eyes. It's also a good idea to have someone else review it too.
- Ignoring Printer Settings: Be sure your printer is set to the correct settings, such as "Actual Size" or "100%," to prevent resizing or distortion. Double-check that your paper type and quality settings match your design's requirements.

Q

DIDN'T RECEIVE THE CORJL LINK:

- If you haven't received the email with your Corjl access link, first check your spam or junk folder. If it's not there, you can access your purchase by logging in to Corjl directly at www.corjl.com using the email address associated with your Etsy account and your order ID.
- Still having trouble? Just reach out, and I can resend the link or assist further.

A

FONT DISPLAY PROBLEMS:

- Occasionally, fonts may not display correctly if your browser needs to be updated. Ensure your browser is up-to-date or try switching to another browser (like Chrome or Firefox).
- Try downloading your design as a test, and see if the fonts are displaying correctly in your download.
- If you're still experiencing issues, let me know, and I'll help resolve the problem.

TEXT NOT FITTING PROPERLY:

- If your text doesn't seem to fit within the design, try adjusting the font size or spacing in the Corjl editor. You can also resize text boxes or move them around to better fit your information.
- Need more help? I'm just a message away for advice on how to make everything fit perfectly.

MY PRINTER SAYS I NEED CMYK PROFILE:

- Most professional print shops will handle the conversion from the RGB color profile (used by Corjl) to CMYK as part of their production process. However, if your printer requires you to convert the file to CMYK before submitting your order, you can use an online conversion tool like PDF2CMYK. Please note, for multi-page designs, you may need to download and convert each page separately as larger files may exceed the service's size limits.
- You can also get in touch with me, and I can convert your file for you (usually within 24 hours, but as soon as I can - I may be in a different time zone).
